9. Faculty level interview points consist of prospective students' administrative readiness, commitment to completing studies and finances.
10. Interview points at the study program level consist of the prospective student's commitment to participating in the education process and supporting readiness related to the education process.
11. Study programs must be involved in the process of preparing scientific field test questions, including interviews.
12. Scientific field tests are theory tests that can be given in the form of Multiple Choice Questions (MCQ), case essay tests or other forms of theory tests.
13. Skills/Practice Tests cover study program competencies
14. Test result scores are input into the <http://portalreg.unhas.ac.id> system directly
15. Marks processing is managed by the system directly and is based on weighting

IV. Test Results Determination Procedure

1. After the entire process of administering the test is carried out, the system will directly recapitulate the test result data based on the assessment proportions and issue a sequence of results of student names along with the scores obtained in the system.
2. The University-level new student admissions committee holds a test results recommendation meeting which is attended by the Deputy Dean for Academic and Student Affairs, the Head of Study Programs from each Faculty/Study Program, and the PPDS PDGS Manager no later than 2 (two) weeks after the test.
3. The Rector, through the University Level New Student Admissions Committee, will hold a Focus Group Discussion (FGD) to determine results which will be attended by the Rector, Vice Rector and the Faculty Dean no later than 2 (two) days after the test results recommendation meeting.
4. The passing of the test is determined based on the minimum score obtained from each component (university, faculty and study program).
